VOL. XVI. NO. 23

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1917

PRICE TEN CENTS

GOVERNMENT ORDERS ARREST OF ALL WHO OPPOSE REGISTRATION

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The government has ordered the arrest throughout the country of those denouncing or discouraging registration.

HASKELL, TEXAS, May 31.—W. A. Bergfield, mail carrier, was arrested today for threatening to kill the president.

MINNEOLA, N. Y., May 31.—Roosevelt in an address said he envied the man who had a chance to risk his life for his country, and called upon the rich to serve with their bodies.

London, May 31.—Eighteen British vessels were sunk the past week it is officially announced.

Washington, May 31.—President Wilson, speaking at the Arlington memorial exercises, said he envied the heroes whose memories we are honoring because theirs is a great work for liberty accomplished. He said they died to preserve the union which we are now using to serve the world.

London, May 31.—The British casualties for the month of May on the Arras front are 112,233.

Petrograd, May 31.—The provisional government is seriously considering the confiscation of private property as a result of the failure of the war loan.

Washington, May 31.—The Senate finance committee today decided to provide in the war tax bill to raise eighty million dollars by consumption taxes as follows: two cents a pound on coffee, five cents on tea, one half cent on sugar and three cents on cocoa.

Washington, May 31.—The complaints against certain steamship lines and railroads of Alaska charging unjust discrimination in favor of the large shippers was dismissed. The complaints were filed before the Interstate Commerce Commission by James Wickersham. Investigation seemed to show that the discriminatory practice was discontinued eight months ago.

JAIL FOR THOSE WHO REFUSE TO REGISTER

Postmaster Worden this week received from the Postmaster General three copies of the President's proclamation with instructions to post same in conspicuous places. The proclamation quotes in full Section 5 of the Act of Congress of May 18 which provides that all male persons between the ages of 21 and 30, both inclusive, shall present themselves for and submit to registration, and every person shall be deemed to have notice of the requirements upon the publication of the proclamation, and any person who shall willfully fail or refuse to present himself for registration or to submit thereto shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction in a district court of the United States having jurisdiction thereof, be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, and shall thereupon be duly registered; that all persons shall be subject to registration who shall have attained their twenty-first birthday and who shall not have attained their thirty-first birthday on or before the date set for registration. The date for registration throughout the United States will be June 5, 1917. In the Territories of Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico a day for registration will be named in a later proclamation.

The Dry Strait Bill

Three weeks ago the Sentinel received a dispatch from Delegate Sulzer stating that Brigadier General Black, chief of the engineers of the War department, had made a report through Secretary of War Baker recommending the dredging and deepening and widening of Dry Strait. The Sentinel at once wrote to Mr. Sulzer requesting a copy of the report of the engineers. This week a reply was received in which he states that he will send a copy of the report as soon as it is off the press. Mr. Sulzer enclosed in his letter a copy of the bill he introduced in the House of Representatives for an appropriation in order that work on the Dry Strait may be begun. Delegate Sulzer's bill reads as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sum of $500,000 be, and the same is hereby, appropriated, to be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of War and the supervision of the Chief of Engineers, for the dredging, deepening, and widening of the channel of Dry Strait, Alaska, in accordance with the recommendations embodied in the report made by the Secretary of War in House Document Numbered Sixty-eight, Sixty-first Congress, first session.

HAZEL B II MAKES VOYAGE TO PETERSBURG

Last Saturday the popular river boat the Hazel B II, made an excursion to Petersburg. The weather was ideal, and the visitors to Petersburg were accorded the brand of hospitality for which our neighboring town is famous. The excursionists were met at the dock and presented with tickets to a dance. The Wrangell people were in just the right mood for a dance and to say that they enjoyed the affair but mildly expresses it. The Wrangellites remained in Petersburg until Sunday noon and enjoyed every minute of their stay. The party reached home Sunday afternoon all loud in their praise of Petersburg hospitality. Every one also had words of praise for Capt. Sid Barrington who did so much to make the voyage a pleasant one.

Among those in the party were: Capt. and Mrs. J. G. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lorentz, Mrs. J. G. George and little son, Mrs. W. J. Pigg, Mrs. Jack Walsh, Miss Sanders, Miss McMurry, Miss Ruth Sylvester, Miss Viola Walsh, Miss Lorena Wigg, Miss Kate McKinney, Miss Mary Loftus, Chas. Olsen, Ed Lynch, Chas. Lynch, Oscar Wickstrom.

An Excellent Program

Despite the fact that the entertainment given Tuesday evening at St. Philip's Gymnasium took place a week earlier than planned, the young people who furnished a large part of the program rose to the occasion and gave a very creditable performance on short notice. While all the numbers, beginning with the piano solo by Miss Ruth Lindman, were heartily enjoyed, interest centered around the play "Mere Man" written by Rev. H. P. Corser and given by Miss Gussie Leonard, Miss Edna Sinclair, Mr. Marion Myers and Mr. Alfred Royalty. The sketch proved a delightful bit of comedy, though for a time it looked as if the young men's heroism in attempting to eat the results of their own culinary efforts might have a tragic end. The suffering inspired them to further heroism, however, which the ladies with true feminine perversity refused to accept. The parts were well taken and the young people were given a curtain call at the close. The younger boys, Eddie Loftus, Vernon Myers, Charles Emery, John Grant, and Eugene Wheeler told stories very successfully. Charles Emery's patriotic selection being especially favored. Other children taking part were Peggy Pennycook who gave two excellent recitations and little Theodosia Royalty who sang very sweetly. There were songs by Mr. Pennycook and Mr. Bronovitch and Mandolin music by Mrs. Johnson the accompanists were Miss Grace Wigg, Miss Gussie Leonard, and Mrs. Mitchell. The big number of the evening was an act from "The Taming of the Shrew" by Mrs. Burnet given in her usual masterly manner and the audience registered its appreciation by prolonged applause. Refreshments were served at the close of the program. The proceeds will be used for some necessary repair work in the church and gym.

Small Riot in Cleveland

Cleveland, May 28.—Police attempting to prevent anti war speeches by socialists in public square Sunday afternoon were attacked by a mob of three hundred a battle ensued and the police station was stoned. Mounted police routed the rioters. Half dozen arrests were made.

MEMORIAL DAY IS OBSERVED IN WRANGELL

Good Program Rendered
---Graves Decorated.

Home Guard Furnishes
Escort to Cemetery

The Memorial day observance in Wrangell yesterday far surpassed that of any previous year. The people themselves were surprised at the success of the observance.

The parade preceding the service at the Rink in the afternoon was a most creditable one.

The parade was formed in the following order:

Six junior scouts carrying a large flag, and a number of Boy Scouts acting as guards.

Redmen in full regalia.

Red Cross in formation in the shape of a cross.

School children.

Reserve of Home Guard.

The parade formed in front of the Redmen's hall and marched to the dock where the school children strewed flowers on the water in honor of the sailor dead, after which taps were sounded.

The procession then marched to the Rink where Memorial services were held. The attendance was good, there being between four and five hundred persons present.

The first number on the program was the song America which was sung with vim and enthusiasm.

The address by F. H. Gray, the chairman, was full of logic, eloquence and enthusiasm. Mr. Gray called attention to the significance of Memorial day, and the importance of its observance, which keeps us from forgetting what we owe to the brave men whose lives paid for the liberty and peace we have enjoyed the greater part of our lives. He said: "We count it a duty and a privilege and an inspiration as Americans to commemorate with honor and devotion the brave soldiers of the Civil war. No selfish motive prompted them. No base and sordid end appealed to them. They gave their ambition, their service, their lives, their all, for what they deemed the best interest of their people. They poured out their very life's blood for their native land. And to commemorate that sacrifice and to honor that heroism, to teach our children to hold in deathless reverence that supreme unselfishness, is a duty which only the base minded will fail to recognize."

Taking hold of the flag, Mr. Gray said: "A democracy like ours is founded on the assumption that every man in it who profits by its protection will be glad to contribute to its success and a ready agent for its defense. We love the flag because it is a symbol of liberty, and reverence it for all it has cost. It has cost human lives in untold numbers; it has cost millions of gallons of blood, and the sufferings and tears of thousands and thousands of women and children. We are all familiar with the quotation, 'The flag that does not protect its protectors is a dirty rag that contaminates the air in which it floats.' And I say that if there are any people in this country today who are not ready to protect the flag that has protected them they are a dirty lot too loathsome to be respected." Here the audience were wild in their applause. It was plain Mr. Gray was addressing an audience of Americans.

Referring to the entrance of the United States into the great war Mr. Gray said: "The German people are a noble people. As a people we honor and respect them, but that confounded kaiser and his damnable militarism must be conquered. In this hour when the war clouds are lowering we solemnly face the battle knowing that we have justice and right on our side, and that valor and courage shall not be lacking in our people. We cannot tell what will be the cost, but we know that our flag will not be furled until the crown is snatched from the brow of autocracy, and the flag of liberty and freedom shall wave on the seas as well as the land."

The address by Mr. Corser was full of patriotism and held the closest attention of the audience. Mr. Corser said in part:

Memorial day is a warning voice. In the progress of the years, with their business, with their ambitions, with their cares and with their strifes, there is a danger that we will forget what has been done for us, and what our liberty and the privileges that we are heir to, have cost. So Memorial day is like a voice saying, 'Observe and obey me, lest you forget.'

So it is we listen and hear its words. It says: 'I would that you remember the myriad heroes of the Civil War. It was they who had ideals and lived according to their ideals. They believed that we are a nation and a nation born for liberty should not perish. Far different from some of even the better statesmen of that day, they realized that no compromise could save the nation, and preserve liberty—that only the most strenuous service and the greatest self denial could save the nation. They lived according to their faith, and died not only for one age but for all ages to come.'

"But," continues Memorial day, "I would not have you forget the heroes of our later wars. The feeling back of the Spanish war was that tyranny in our neighbor's country, endangered our own liberty. No man can see an unrighted wrong without being affected himself. So we served notice on Spain. 'Either rule in righteousness or abdicate.' It was the heroes of this war that bore this notice into foreign ports, and made good. 'Do not forget them,' says Memorial day.

Then this day tells us to view the present. It continues, 'Tyranny fortified with half a century of preparedness, instructed by all the wisdom and skill that modern science can furnish, having had its moral sense completely destroyed by philosophers like Nietzsche, started out to conquer the world. A few thousand of our brave American boys caught the vision before the rest of us and rushed to fight for France and England. No knight errant of old ever went out with higher aims than they. Many of these have gone to their rewards. Honor them.'

So this memorial day do we not in the presence of all the heroes of the past, pledge ourselves to new allegiance, and say that what ever we have, even life, if necessary, is for the cause.

At the close of the service taps were sounded. The chairman publicly thanked Mr. Downer for his service in forming the parade, Mr. William Lewis for the use of the hall, the ladies who had worked with the children, and all who had in any way contributed to the success of the observance.

FOREST SERVICE RAISING REGIMENT TO GO TO FRANCE

A regiment of men for immediate service in France will be organized by the Forest Service under the direction of the War Department. This regiment is planned to assist in forest work in France, and will also conduct logging and milling operations. Portable mills probably will be used as they can be quickly taken from place to place as need develops or as supply of logs requires. The regiment will be comprised of foresters, logging engineers, experienced woodsmen, loggers, and men of similar experience and training. This body of men will form a unit of the Engineers' Corps of which the railroad workers and a part.

The program was as follows:

Song—America Audience

Address by the chair F. H. Gray

Song—Tenting Tonight Quartet

Invocation Staff Captain R. Smith

Song—The Battle Cry of Freedom Audience

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address

J. W. Pritchett

Song—The Marseillaise Audience

Address Rev. H. P. Corser

Song—The Star Spangled Banner Audience

Mr. Warren presided at the piano.

In the evening a voyage was made to the cemetery where the graves of soldiers were decorated. There was a good turn out, and it was a pretty sight to see a procession of little girls with baskets of flowers, and Boy Scouts acting as guards, decorating the graves of soldiers.

The Sanitary Packing Company very generously furnished for the occasion the cannery boat Halcyon with scow in tow. On the scow Mr. Barnes had had benches set up for the convenience of those making the trip. Capt. Sid Barrington kindly furnished the Hazel B II, and this popular river boat also had a full load.

Upon returning home every one expressed satisfaction that the day had been so fittingly observed.

Judge Thomas, chairman of the general committee, was untiring in his efforts in arranging for the ceremonies. Time and space prevent us from giving the events of the day the complete write-up they deserve. Suffice it to say that the members of the various committees all did their work well, and did it most willingly.

The committee had a surplus of $2 after paying all expenses. With this money they bought 200 extra copies of four patriotic songs for use on future patriotic occasions, which should be frequent. These songs will be left in the keeping of the Redmen's lodge, and may be had for use in public services of any nature by application to Mr. Churchill, secretary of the Redmen's lodge.

A number of the memorial service programs were left over. Any one desiring one or more copies may obtain same, as long as they last, by calling at the Sentinel office.

Makes Official Inquiry

Washington, May 28.—Secretary of State Lansing this morning wired Ambassador Page to make the necessary inquiry in regard to the report that Great Britain had imposed restrictions against the importation of canned salmon.

SOME RED CROSS TRUTHS

A great part of the work of the Red Cross is directed and carried on by men and women serving without pay.

All accounts of the Red Cross are audited by the United States War Department.

The Red Cross has a permanent government fund of more than $1,000,000. The expenses of Red Cross administration are mostly paid out of the income from this fund and from the membership dues.

At least 95 cents out of every dollar given the Red Cross for relief work is spent for relief work. Until recently no deduction whatever was made from European relief donations for administration expense. A deduction of not more than 5 per cent is authorized in the Red Cross Charter.

No money was taken from the endowment fund, membership dues or relief work donations to pay for the new marble Red Cross Building in Washington. This building cost $800,000; Congress appropriated $400,000 of this sum, and friends of the Red Cross gave the other $400,000. This building was authorized by Congress and erected as a memorial to "The Heroic Women of the Civil War."

Shall America Lag Behind?

If the American people are going to support their Red Cross in our national emergency, they must join it. In Japan one person in every twenty-two is a member of the Japanese Red Cross. In Germany one person in every forty belongs to the German Red Cross. In Russia one out of every 142 is a Red Cross member, but in the United States only one out of every 291 persons belongs to the Red Cross.

No Nation Can Be Sure of Peace That Does Not Prepare For War

By the Right Rev. H. W. YENT,
MANCHESTER, Bishop of Worcester, England

WHEN peace comes it will be helpful if neutral countries will lend a hand in the adjustment of all of those social conditions which will make for the commonwealth. We are tired of the word "empire" in England. WE WANT TO TALK OF THE BRITISH BROTHERHOOD OR THE COMMONWEALTH. AND WE WANT YOU TO SUPPORT US IN OUR IDEAL.

I have been shocked since coming to America to hear some men suggest that in England there was a growing dislike of the United States.

I have never seen any indication of anything of the sort. I have no doubt that we could wish that your government or certain officers of it had handled certain matters differently, but we have no distrust or dislike for the American people. I speak for a large number of Englishmen when I say that we have no wish to see you at war. We know too much of the horror of war to wish to see your nation embroiled in it.

BUT I DO KNOW THAT NO NATION CAN BE SURE OF PEACE IF IT IS NOT WILLING TO FIGHT AND DOES NOT PREPARE FOR WAR.

News of a Former Resident

Fred Johnston, formerly of Wrangell, but now manager of the Alberta Lumber Company at Irma, Alberta, has been elected president of the Irma Board of Trade, according to the Irma Times. Mr. Johnston is evidently in a very prosperous community, judging by the way the Irma paper is speckled with items about new buildings. In the real estate items of the times we note the following:

"Fred S. Johnston has purchased a five acre tract of land from the Grand Trunk Pacific on the west side of town."

NORTHERN LIGHTS

George Hutchinson, cashier of the First National Bank of Fairbanks, is authority for the statement that the output of the Tolovana country this season will reach a million to a million and a quarter.

The Loyal Order of Moose has the distinction of organizing the first lodge in the railroad town of Nenana. The new lodge starts off with a membership of more than thirty.

"Spud" Martin, a well known Fairbanks rancher has recently disposed of five tons of potatoes grown by himself at $150 per ton.

The Loyal Order of Moose of Fairbanks has sent to Mooseheart, the famous home for the children of members of the order, a moose hide, handsomely decorated with the figure of a heart, under which is the slogan, "Fairbanks, the Golden Heart of Alaska." There's a Warm Spot in it for you. Within the heart is the Moose emblem, and the number of the Fairbanks lodge. The skin will form a part of the decoration of the boys dormitory.

The Nome Nugget states that natives may be seen almost any day on Front street with two or three carcasses of seal. They look too repulsive to eat but are an important article of diet among the Eskimos. White men who have been compelled by circumstances to subsist on seal say it is not so bad and has the taste of good pork.

Valdez is experiencing a building boom, property owners starting to replace the buildings destroyed by the January fire.

Seldovia claims to be the home of the fattest herring and the largest edible crabs on the Pacific coast. Also the birthplace of the largest baby in Alaska. Mrs. Andy Johnson of that place, recently giving birth to a baby girl weighing sixteen pounds; mother and daughter doing well.

WRANGELL PUBLIC SCHOOL CLOSES

Graduating Class Given Banquet by Miss Ostmo, the Principal.

The Wrangell Public School closed last Friday. In the morning the promotion cards were passed out, after which Miss Ostmo, the principal, and Miss McMurry of the Intermediate department, invited the pupils of their rooms to join them for a picnic at Shoemaker's bay. The invitation was accepted with great enthusiasm, and the last day of school was made one of most pleasant memories. The Diamond C and the Albino were the boats used for transporting the merry party to and from the picnic grounds.

On Thursday evening Miss Ostmo gave a banquet at the Wrangell hotel to members of the graduating class. The event was the occasion for many felicitous remarks. At the close of the feast Miss Ostmo sprang a surprise by serving something that was not on the menu. This was when she passed around the diplomas.

Those present at the banquet were: Misses Irene Coulter, Lillian Barron, Viola Walsh, Edith Horgheim, Liberty Worden.

The menu was as follows:

Cream Tomato Soup

Croustons

Salmon Croquettes

Sauce

Roast Pork—dressing

Mashed Potatoes—gravy

Combination Salad

Peas

Ice Cream—wafers

Coffee

Raisins—After Dinner Mints

The averages made by the pupils of the eighth grade in the finals were as follows:

Irene Coulter 89 2-7

Lillian Barron 90 2-7

Viola Walsh 91

Edith Horgheim 94 1-2

Liberty Worden 93

Misses Liberty Worden, Lillian Barron and Viola Walsh completed the seventh and eighth grades in one year.

Friday evening there was a special meeting of the town council to act on a communication received from the War department stating that the Willson & Sylvester Mill Company had made application for a permit to make a fill-in in front of their property at Wrangell, and that if the council had no objection the permit applied for would be issued. Upon hearing the communication read the council passed a resolution approving the proposed fill-in, and authorizing that the war Department be so advised.

The case of E. R. Bingham, charged with the murder of Johnny Shakes, did not come to trial at Ketchikan. He will probably be tried at Juneau at the next term.

CLUB NOTES

At the annual meeting of the Civic Improvement Club last Friday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Woods; Vice-President, Mrs. Barnes; Secretary, Mrs. Pennycook; Treasurer, Mrs. Johnson. The net proceeds of the entertainment given May 23d amounted to $74.95 and a sufficient sum was taken out of this to complete the school-land fund. The rest was placed in the general fund for the present. The club went on record as endorsing the nation-wide agitation for the conservation of food by eliminating waste in the home which is being waged at present by a vast "Woman's Army Against Waste". At the close of the business session, the club adjourned to meet in five weeks, June 29, with Mrs. Johnson.

R. P. Worthington came in from Tokeon today with an injured foot which is the result of a heavy bar having been dropped on the pedal extremity.

Mrs. A. Lemieux and sons Louis and Ned, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnt Sorset are pabe returnee home this week from Corvallis where the young men have been attending the Oregon Agricultural College.

The home of William Berger, at Berger's ranch, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning.

Rev. L. H. Pedersen of Skagway, one of the best known clergymen in Alaska, was a pleasant caller at the Sentinel office this morning. He was returning from a visit to Astoria.

Ed Grigwire's dandruff treatment is the best on the market. Try it and be convinced.

LECTURES ON HISTORY

St. Philip's Church

There is a school book knowledge of history and a real knowledge of history. The school book is made to sell, and therefore it avoids statements, no matter how true they are, which might offend any district, or any class.

It will be the aim of these lectures to lead to a better understanding of our country's history.

The first one coming next Sunday evening will deal with the beginning of patriotism. Its subject is the "Birth of Patriotism."

Don't miss any of these lectures.
